// ABOUT EVIE CIAIR

Evie Clair is 13 years old and has been playing piano and singing since she was two. She got her start at age 8 in Anne at Hale Theater. She released two original pop singles and received one of three Judges Choice awards in a contest for her cover of Glorious. Evie won a contest to sing the theme song for the movie Once I was a Beehive which featured her original song For You on the soundtrack. She released her pop single Love You One More Time just before America's Got Talent season 12 where she was a top 10 finalist and was able to sing her original song Okay Day live for the final show with celebrity musician James Arthur who tweeted it was his "new favorite song."

"I've said this before, you are gutsy. You really, really are. Let me tell you something. This song was beautiful. Your voice was beautiful. I know who wrote this song, but you made it your version. Your tone, your pitch was stunning. It was laid-back. And let me tell you, your dad is going to be so proud of you." —Simon Cowell
